

Royal Berkshire Hospital survey

The Royal Berkshire NHS Foundation Trust is on the government's New Hospital Programme which means it will receive funding either to redevelop or rebuild the Royal Berkshire Hospital (RBH) in Reading.

The Trust has come up with a range of options and is now seeking input from the local community and hospital users on how people use its services and the possible future redevelopment of RBH, either at its current site or at a new location outside of Reading.

The survey is open until 6 March and can be completed online at www.buildingberkshiretogether.co.uk/survey
